Information for MA & Ph. D.

Studying and researching towards completion of a postgraduate degree is a crucial part of building towards your dream career.

This page contains all the information you need to help make your postgraduate studies a success at DA YEH.

Step1- Choosing a course: For those studying in a new discipline, different from their prior field of studies, students must take a basic course in their new field.

Step2- Apply for a supervisor: Once a course has been chosen, the first step is to apply for a supervisor. You must find a professor in your department who is a good match for your area of interest. Then, together with the help of your supervisor, you may decide your research subject.

Step3- Proposal defense: Many departments require MA and Ph.D. candidates to submit an oral defense of their research project for every chapter they complete. This will be in the 1st, 2nd and 3rd years of your degree.

Step4- Final defense: This is the final examination for your degree. Every student wishing to complete their degree must defend their thesis with an oral test in front of their supervisor and a panel from the department.

Step5- Thesis review: Once the defense of your thesis is complete, the full finished manuscript must be submitted to the online submission system. Your thesis will be checked for plagiarism, and then confirmed.

Congratulations!

When all the above is complete, well done! You have your degree!
